AIDAN BRYAN

Hello, my name is Aidan Bryan and I'm A Camera Trainee based In Leeds and London. To practice my dream of becoming a Director of Photography I attempt to work within the Camera Department on any shoot I can, from the Camera Trainee position to the Director of Photography position. I am currently studying at the Northern Film School in Leeds to improve my networking and to gain valuable experience in Cinematography.

Aside from my ambitious Cinematography projects and studies I enjoy exploring the outdoors, exercising and self development. One day I will be able to combine my love of adventure with filmmaking as a career.

My philosophy is the belief that working as hard as I can every day to add more value to myself and to others will guarantee success in the future.
