Personal Profile

An assistant editor that is always keen to increase my skills and experience. I am used to working to tight deadlines in highly stressful environments. I am experienced on Avid and am capable using DaVinci Resolve, Adobe Premier and Final Cut Pro.

Experience

Having worked as an assistant editor for over ten years, I am well versed in the workings of an edit suite and the post production process. I have worked on a feature film, television dramas and live TV, each offering their own unique challenges. General duties include transcoding, logging, syncing and organising projects. Exporting various file formats. Collaborating with colleagues to create work flows. Cutting recaps, teasers and series sizzlers. Assembling and tracklaying scenes and ensuring the edit suites runs smoothly.

Prior to 2010 I worked in the machine room at Aardman Animations where I was responsible for archiving company material and creating show reels and sizzlers. Working at Aardman provided me the opportunity to move on to their pre-production of a CGI animated feature called Arthur Christmas which opened my eyes to the possibilities available to me. From here I went freelance and found work as the sole assistant editor on a childrens drama created by Alison Hume, Stephan Smallwood and Jon East called The Sparticle Mystery. This gave me the perfect opportunity to learn the workings of the offline edit department, specifically on drama and to understand the processes involved during both the shoot and post production. Between working on various dramas I have spent time at BBC Bristol and RDF West working on factual entertainment television.
