Interests

Since 2009, I have steadily built up a range of audio and film editing experiences through courses taken in this country and the States. In particular I have editing experience with Cubase having had to write scores for film and editing experience with Final Cut Pro x through courses and having to produce short films which were uploaded to You tube for Heavens Road Radio and HCPT. I additionally have qualifications in radio production where I have had to create and present Radio programmes as well as having to edit programmes for others. I additionally have just published a book – The Santanalyse Ring where I also produced the front cover. I love computing in all its aspects and also have experience of web design using HTML5 and CSS3. As a more mature professional, I am now looking to follow my passion in film and Radio related work– hence having embarked on undertaking more freelance type work. I am additionally local to Canterbury and part time work would be great in fitting in with other projects..
