PROFILE

As a Director I love capturing honest and emotionally charged moments and performances with a thought provoking subtext. I have a flair for simple yet effective visuals that enhance these qualities rather than overshadow them. I enjoy the collaborative process of filmmaking and am always keen to see what others bring to the process. I have high standards and a strong work ethic.

Having worked as an Assistant Director for over 20 years, I moved into directing in 2019. I completed the ITV Multi Camera Directing Course under the mentorship of Jordan Hogg, and I have steadily built a successful career as a Director.

My background as an Assistant Director has given me a solid foundation to understand the constraints of filmmaking without impeding my creative approach as a Director.
