EXPERIENCE

FREELANCE VIDEOGRAPHER

September 2017- Present

In this role I have worked internationally on projects for clients ranging from small adventure videos to multi-million-pound business'. I have handled projects from pre-production all the way through to production and post, tending to focus now more on shooting. I frequently use Black Magic cameras, as well as other setups, to produce high quality engaging videos. I have also produced multi-language outputs and have worked independently as well as part of larger teams and workflows.

International

Jan 2017- Apr 2017

After a lengthy interview process I was selected to volunteer in Ziguinchor, Senegal. I lived with a local family and worked in international teams in individual and multi-agency projects to promote health initiatives, employment projects and skills as well as economic empowerment. This experience taught me many things, including living and working in a new environment.
