

LACHLAN SMITH

DIRECTOR

WRITER AND PRODUCER

Lachlan has had a deep love of Filmmaking, for as long as he can remember. As a child, he would watch all behind the scenes material that he could get his hands on, trying to gain as much insight as possible into the entire process (...he still does this).

He began his career in 2012 as an editor in broadcast television. Starting by cutting sports montages. Lachlan quickly moved to long format documentaries, as well as Feature and Short Films. And in 2017 Lachlan was awarded a Broadcast Award for his editing. These years gave him a thorough understanding of narrative filmmaking to bring to his directing.

In 2020 Lachlan made his official directorial Debut and won at New York International Film Festival.
