I am a conscientious, award-winning student filmmaker and entry-level creative with diverse qualifications in film production, complemented by professional experience in unscripted TV. Beginning my creative journey with a BA (Hons) in Film Production, I believe well-rounded knowledge is vital alongside technical skills for success in the media industry. My passion for production was cultivated through hands-on involvement in various short films and student projects, affording me comprehensive understanding of the production workflow from research to editing. Following the completion of my master's degree, I am actively seeking trainee runner roles in film and TV production that enhance and showcase my creative abilities. My part-time work in retail has equipped me with transferable skills, including problem-solving, effective communication, organisation, collaboration, and the ability to work under pressure.
