TALENT MANAGER IMDB

A highly organised Junior Production Manager with over 4 years of experience working on factual entertainment and documentary formats for major television broadcast channels. I have excellent knowledge of the administrative processes required to support the smooth running of a production through to delivery and with this, I have recently stepped up to Junior Production Manager. I thrive in fast paced production environments that require quick turnarounds and encompass a blend of remote, in office, and location work. I am eager to further enhance my understanding of cost management and reporting to contribute even more effectively to the production process.
