I'm a 22 year old filmmaker and writer from Frome and film graduate of the University of Salford. Growing up I have always loved film and storytelling and now I want to bring this passion into the workplace as a development or production runner. I've had the experience of working in lots of different sectors including fast paced environments like film sets and hospitality. I'm good with people and have experience working within a team and leading one. I look forward to hopefully bringing my creativity and hardworking attitude to work with you.
