I am a punctual, detail-focused, and energetic individual, with a desire to learn and improve. I have spent the past year growing my confidence and competence in a real work environment, whilst further developing my skills. While I was in university, I took a course on Film and Media Arts Production. Whilst working on student film projects, I grew accustomed to facing unexpected challenges, which taught me to work under pressure, something that has proven useful in a busy retail setting. A mixture of independent practice and group projects have allowed me to become flexible; I could be a willing, active, and dependable participant in a group.
