As a young mother with a passion for creativity and a drive to succeed, I am eager to bring my unique perspective and diverse skills to the film and tv industry.

Becoming a mother has taught me resilience and adaptability while boosting my creativity in new ways. Balancing the demands of parenthood whilst pursuing my artistic endeavours has honed my time management skills and given me a sense of determination.

I am excited about the opportunity to join a dynamic team where I can contribute my talents and learn from experienced professionals. I am confident that my unique perspective will enrich the creative process.
