Despite currently studying Film as an undergraduate, I have worked across a range of sectors since the age of 13, something which gives me an understanding of multiple disciplines both creative and logistical. The collective knowledge I have gained from each of these first-hand experiences has greatly expanded my repertoire of skills, including (but not limited to) communicating within a team and with customers and a sharp attention to detail. I have always adapted quickly into new roles and devote myself to putting in a hundred percent of my work ethic, and beyond, into every task, completing work efficiently without cutting corners to get there. My motivation comes from my ability to set reasonable goals within the work I do, and to one day make an impact in the film industry off of my own hard work, built from the wide-spanning knowledge of the experiences that came before.

Work Experience

Student Ambassador

Norwich University of the Arts-Norwich

June 2023 to Present

As a student ambassador I help out at the Uni, undertaking tasks such as giving tours and running workshops and exhibitions. A major highlight of my time in this role was being a festival co-ordinator for the Universities annual graduate showcase: For this role, over a two week period I was in charge of an exhibition building and it's team of invigilators, which meant setting up and packing down the space, scheduling the work rota's, running the floor and being the main point of contact between visitors and exhibitors.

This experience has further increased my leadership and organisational/management skills as well as given me insight into the running of festivals, exhibitions and other high capacity showcases.

Freelance Filmmaker

Norfolk

2019 to Present

Since College in 2019 I have worked on multiple film and moving image productions. In this time I have acquired a whole range of skills and have familiarised myself with many roles relating to the industry. More generally this involves heavy amounts of teamwork and in some cases leadership, however I have become comfortable with camera operating and editing, as well as adding to my experiences with music production through composing.

Select credits include: To Dip Or Not to Dip (2019) - Writer, Director; Coastal Creatives Ad (2022) - All crew related roles (solo project); 3 Watts (2023) - Editor, Sound Designer; Away From Home (2024) -Director; Nuclear Fall/Winter (2024) - Director.

Quality Inspector

Goldwell Manufacturing Services-Great Yarmouth
March 2022 to November 2022

My role at Goldwell involved taking steel parts made with CNC machines and measuring them up to the brief and technical drawing, usually to a small tolerance of a few thous/mils. I would then have to organise the parts into different sections depending on where they needed to be sent next in the process. I would also have to engrave certain parts, giving me a basic understanding of coding processes.

The main skills I took away from this job were organisation and a keen attention to detail.

Bar Staff

Haven Holidays - Bourne Leisure-Caister-on-Sea
July 2021 to November 2021

Within my role at Haven's family showbar, the Live Lounge, I tended the bar and shared joint responsibility with the other employees in changing pumps, stocking fridges and keeping the bar clean, while occasionally helping out the runner side when things got busy (average of 1200 customers per night). During my time there I would consider myself an integral part of the team and gained an aptitude for cocktail making and mixology.

The biggest take away from this job was an ability to work quickly under high pressure, having to work with a high capacity of customers across the night, with a heightened skill for customer relations.
