Professional Summary

As a seasoned media and content creation professional, I bring over 20 years of experience in project management, music production, and cultural program development. As the former Proprietor/Managing Director of Audio Labb Studios, I led innovative, community-driven initiatives, including the global music project Intertune, which enhanced international collaboration for Barbadian artists. With expertise in team recruitment, social media strategies, and contract negotiation, I excel in driving project success through creative leadership and strategic planning.
