PROFILE

I am an experienced costume standby and costume supervisor within the film and television industry. After completing my BA degree in television, film and theatre I spent time working in the airline industry and went on to develop a career within the learning and development field as a training manager and facilitator. This experience has equipped me with solid leadership skills and meticulous attention to detail, led through a service excellence orientated approach. I have worked on a wide range of projects, including feature films and HETV productions. I have experience in principal/stunt/key crowd and crowd standby as well as supervising a multi-episode TV drama and pilot.
