My name is Robin Morgan, I am a unit stills photographer based in The Forest Of Dean Gloucestershire.

I am a lover of all things film stills and have been a student of the world renowned Film stills photographer Nicola Dove. I am available for film, tv, music video and behind the scenes imagery. As unit stills my job is to produce beautiful imagery whilst on set which can be used to create vital content for your film's marketing campaign.

Film production is a creative team effort, and as you will know film stills are so important to the marketing and distribution of any project.

Hiring a Unit Stills Photographer can elevate your production with striking iconic images.

Thank you for your time. robin@morganstills.com
