About

I'm a freelance prop maker and painter, currently based in the UK. I have mostly worked in the field of stop motion and have 2.5 years work experience with Aardman Animations. Below is a collection of my paintings, sculptures and drawings from across my profession.

I mostly love working as part of a team on big projects, but also enjoy getting lost in the finer details. My skills include sculpting, painting and mould-making. I have also made a stop motion animation, which has recognition from various film festivals.

My current ambition is to continue making and developing my skills in the art department to produce exciting and high quality work, while meeting wonderful, creative people.
