ABOUT ME

I am a professional freelance makeup artist, hairstylist [including wigs], and special effects artist, with over 5+ years within various areas of the industry. I studied Hair, Makeup and Prosthetics for Performance at top ranked university, London College of Fashion, where I gained a First Class BA Honours degree.

On top of this degree, I also studied art and design at foundation level, obtaining critical creative skills and knowledge along the way, that I use in my everyday practices.

I am currently based in London or North West England, but willing to travel in the UK and abroad for work, when required.

During my time at university, I used my spare time to gain experience working on multiple film sets, short and feature length, music videos and photoshoots. Where I struggled for work due to the pandemic, I curated my own shoots to build my portfolio. I am now looking for work on set as a Trainee.
