ABOUT ME

Self-taught writer-director based in the North of England, working across fiction and non-fiction. My debut feature, Long Hour with Levi – a multilingual psychological drama in English, Hindi, Bulgarian, and Russian – is currently under consideration for EIFF, TIFF, BIFF, and IIFF. I independently led every stage of production, gaining hands-on experience across development, cinematography, and post.

I'm now looking to collaborate on new projects while developing short-form work and writing my next feature, set across Cambodia and England.
