

Personal Statement

A creative and adaptable professional recently returned from a year abroad in Barcelona, where I developed strong communication and organisational skills through international work and cultural immersion. I'm now eager to begin a career in the creative industry, bringing with me a passion for photography and video production, including experience shooting for clients and creating visual content. With a background in customer service, team leadership, and freelance creative work, I offer strong time management, a collaborative mindset, and a keen eye for visual detail, ready to contribute to a dynamic production environment.

Interests

Outside of work, I enjoy staying active through running, climbing and going to the gym. I also have a deep interest in photography and videography, which I regularly practice as a hobby and through freelance work. I enjoy experimenting with creative shoots, editing software, and different visual styles with skills I'm eager to bring into a professional creative environment.
