I have known Isaac for several years, being neighbours in Somerset. Whilst working on Willow last summer and Autumn. Isaac stepped up to the role of DIT and Video trainee for many difficult days over the course of the shooting period. We worked together in harsh quarries and hilltops, a blisteringly wet pendine beach, as well as within Dragon Studios in Bridgend.

Isaac immediately showed us that he was exactly the kind of person for the role, and was an ideal candidate for the position of trainee. A keen learner and keener presence on set to be with. He picked things up swiftly and could apply this new knowledge quickly when the shooting requirements changed through the day.

He was, and I'm sure still is, committed to the set and the team, and went to great lengths to support us all. Always happy to help, to work hard, and to be there. The Video Operator, Lewis Williams, also was very thankful and impressed with Isaacs attitude. "He's a good one. He gets it" Lewis and I discussed.

I am awaiting our next opportunity to work together with excitement.
