Hobbies and Interest:

My passion for film as a child and teenager led me to study it at a university level. The main focus of my dissertation was animation as this has always been such an interesting genre to me. During my spare time I love to paint and create art in a range of mediums, using the detail focused part of my personality to make sure that everything is done to my high standard. When I'm not watching films or using my watercolours, I like to either play video games like Animal Crossing with my friends or read.
