PROFILE

I am currently in the final year of my Film and Media degree and will be graduating in July. I have hands on experience across both film and television production, and I thrive in on set environments where supporting workflows and ensuring smooth operations come naturally to me. I am organised, composed under pressure and confident managing multiple tasks simultaneously. My experience also includes content creation and basic post-production, such as short form video and podcast editing. I am driven, detail oriented and committed to building a long term career in the film and media industry, with a strong motivation to continue developing my skills. I value collaborative, professional environments where I can contribute reliably while learning from experienced colleagues.
