Personal Profile:

My name is Ash Robertson and I am a media graduate from the north east of England. I currently work freelance running my own production company and as a customer quality rep for Shape UK. I am however seeking a full time position in the media ideally as a video editor or camera operator and have been working freelance for the past three years to build my experience towards that. I have lots of experience working in promotions for companies such as Ten Alps Vision, Somethin Else' BBC in London, Hi Lights, JBH Design, Northern Film And Media and record company Global Music. I studied a media production degree at Northumbria University graduating with a 2:1. Previously I have achieved a BTEC National Diploma at Cleveland College Of Art And Design with a triple Distinction in Media.

Previous to this I also attended Stage Coach theatre arts school for four years where I learned about music and drama taking part in shows and learning the skills of acting.

My other experience includes bar work, warehouse work and product distribution. I enjoy work that is driven, exciting, goal based, rewarding and important. I like to utilise all the skills I have learned in work and university and implementing them all in a unique and special way.
