Profile

From primetime drama to nostalgia led compilation shows and everything in between - editing is my passion. This was clear from the moment I first stepped into an edit suite and it continues to this day. The creativity, problem-solving, lateral thinking and close working relationships that form the basis of this role are at the forefront of my skills and the things I love most in this arena.

Experience

EDITOR (Freelance) - Continued

Working in MediaCity supporting the production of programmes such as Health: Truth or Scare.

CEM, KEELHAM - 2015 - 2017

Directed social media, scripting, visual content and video to support launch of new stores as this £20m award-winning, innovative business continues to expand.

LECTURER (Creative Media) - 2014 - 2015

Teaching 'Factual Programming' and 'Multi Camera Production' for Bradford College. This included facilitating practical work in the college studio and developing and assessing written and practical tasks to cover the course requirements.

PRODUCER/EDITOR (Freelance) - 2005 - 2011

Whilst working as a freelance broadcast editor I spent some time producing and directing educational films on subjects such as good financial practice, the citizenship test and workplace diversity.

EDITOR (Freelance) - 2003 - 2013

As a freelance editor I was fortunate enough to work on a huge variety of programmes for channels including Sky, ITV, Channel 4 and the BBC. Programme titles include, '50 Films to See Before you Die', 'Animal 24/7', and Hollyoaks. Making use of my home edit suite I also edited and delivered for broadcast sport content for Ch4 including diving championships with Tom Daley and indoor athletics.

EDITOR, YTV, LEEDS - 1994- 2003

I cut a broad range of programmes: 'Emmerdale', 'Heartbeat', 'Countdown', 'Touch of Frost', Regional News and 'Holidays from Hell' to name a selection. I was also seconded to 'Promotions' for a period where I was responsible for producing trailers for ITV broadcast programmes.
