EMMA BIGGINS

LINE PRODUCER/PRODUCTION MANAGER

With bases in both The New Forest and London, I am a versatile, technical, hands-on line producer and production manager with experience of shooting both in London and the regions. My experience is in feature films, working with budgets ranging £100k to £7million. I have a background in camera rental house co-ordination and data-wrangling within the broadcast sector, which equips me with useful technical knowledge. I have worked in a technical position in Factual TV for National Geographic and have an understanding of broadcast workflows.

In recent years I have developed a strong network of relationships with London and regionally based crew and facility companies. Having cut my teeth in the micro-budget indie film arena, I pride myself on my attention to detail, being a strong negotiator and my ability to deliver ambitious projects as cost effectively as possible.
