Selfshooting Filmmaker, Writer/Director, Editor and an award winning Cinematographer. I've been passionate about the visual arts from a young age, training in the medium since school and graduating university in Media (Film) Production at Staffordshire University with a 2:1. As well as producing many of my own short films, I have also worked on Music Video's, Corporate and Educational films as well as Broadcast TV, for a wide variety of production companies. I have a strong technical understanding of all the processes of filmmaking as well as being able to approach every project in a creative and unique way.

Film Work

A story of unrequited love, relationships and the decline of a friendship.

Producing and directing this short helped me take control of difficult situations and build confidence in co-ordinating every aspects of a film shoot.

2012 The Rhythm, The City, 7pm - Assistant Director, Camera Operator (Dir. Tom Chimiak)

When, at 7pm, the Manchester School of Samba practice, the city feels the rhythm.

Having to use two different skills at once was challenging but taught me how to prioritise and manage myself and others effectively.

2013 Tent - Director, Producer, Writer

This film pushed my creative skills in writing and directing, as well as teaching me some techniques in motion graphics.
