I have nearly 20 years experience of working on productions within the TV industry. During this time I have worked for ITV (12 years), and most recently Kindle Entertainment Ltd (8 years) where I have looked after the finances for the company (from the inception of the business) as well as overseeing the finances of, or production accounted, their entire output. I understand the production process from initial development, through scripting and production to final delivery, whilst my knowledge of productions crosses all genres, including drama, factual, and entertainment and I am experienced at looking after productions with tight and challenging budgets.
